Haven't seen you for a long time

Look at you, such a classy gente

You have created this amazing world

To meet your own values and plans

Love is what the humans breathe upon

Just like the air, it's essential for them

Share the feeling of love and make their day

For a brighter future to come

Nothing in your past is changeable

Just like the air, it's essential for you

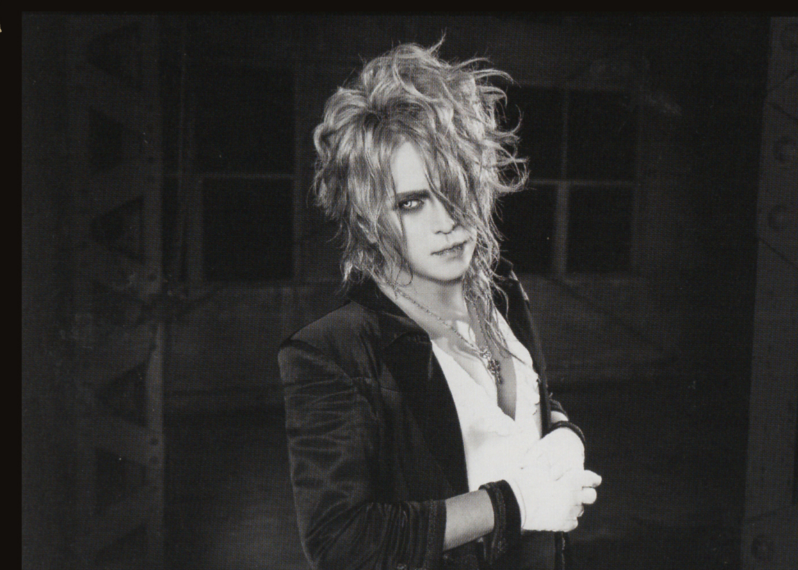

Some have sucked on the blood, and lived in the dark

It ushers you in what I plan

You made these plans for your own dead set world

Even though it's not right for the alive

You will make them all believe it's based on love

Not based on lust — Excellent!
